

EFOMP EXAMINATION BOARD

ANNOUNCEMENT

EFOMP Examination Board (EEB) exams in Copenhagen, August 21 and 22, 2018

Extension of the deadline for submission of applications

EEB has decided to extend the deadline of the application period for both diplomas (EDMP and EACMPE). The new and final deadline for submitting applications is the 15th of June, 2018.

Benefits:

EDMP: this diploma facilitates mobility of medical physicists in Europe and beyond. It is also useful for medical physicists working in countries which have not established yet certification boards.

EACMPE: attestation certificate to those medical physicists that have reached the Medical Physics Expert level in order to be recognized by the relevant national competent authorities according to the new EU BSS.

EDMP and EACMPE make you more valuable to employers and so you can expect to have a competitive advantage over candidates without EEB diplomas.

Eligibility criteria and fees:

Information about eligibility criteria and fees can be found at <https://www.efomp.org/index.php?r=pages&id=eeb-about> Applicants registered in the European Congress of Medical Physics (ECMP) 2018 (Copenhagen, August 23-25, 2018) will receive a 20% discount on the normal fee.

Prof. John Damilakis, MSc, PhD, FIOMP

EEB Chair